DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because the figures should include word labels of the elements to more clearly describe what is included. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because "Figure 2" in the final line should be removed. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Korst et al. (US Patent # 6,477,541).

6. With respect to claims 1 and 9-11, Korst et al. disclose a system for periodically fetching blocks of data from a storage medium and supplying the blocks in the form of streams, wherein the blocks of data are fetched from a file comprising logically successive clusters, a cluster having a cluster size C and having physically successive storage sectors for holding/storing the data, the system comprising: admission control means for controlling the admission of a new stream having a maximum bit rate c^{\max} , and read/write means for in a period of maximum duration P fetching blocks of data from the storage medium for respective ones of the streams, wherein the admission control means is arranged: to determine a minimal block size B_{lower} for the blocks for the new stream whereby a block of size B_{lower} is sufficiently large to sustain consumption at rate c^{\max} during a period of length P , to determine the number of times k a block of size B_{lower} fits in the cluster of size C , and to determine for k blocks to be used for reading/writing the cluster a respective block size by evenly partitioning the cluster size C into the k block sizes so as to arrange that the cluster can be completely read/written by means of the k blocks, by teaching in column 2, lines 10+, that a block must contain enough data for a user to consume at a maximum rate during the period of a worst-case sweep. The size of a block of each of the streams must therefore at least be equal to the product of the maximum duration of the sweep and the maximum consumption rate of the respective stream. The duration of a sweep is determined by the actual blocks to be fetched, since each block requires a switch time for locating the block on the disk and a transfer time for actually reading the block from the disk at a given transfer rate.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
